- Wet hair and apply shampoo, focusing on the scalp.
- Massage gently to remove buildup.
- Rinse thoroughly.
- Follow with a ph-balancing rinse or conditioner.
- Moisturize hair afterward.
- Use once a week or as needed

ROSEHIP OIL

Rosehip oil is a natural, nutrient rich oil extracted from the seeds of wild rose bushes.

Renowned for it's high content of essential fatty acids, vitamins A and C, and antioxidants, it promotes skin hydration, reduces the appearance of scars and fine lines, and improves overall skin tone and texture.

Lightweight and easily absorbed, it moisturizes the skin and is suitable for all skin types.

TEA TREE OIL

Let's make sure you use tea tree oil safely.
It's a powerful essential oil with antibacterial, antifungal, and anti-inflammatory properties, but it can irritate skin if used incorrectly

Here's how to use it step by step

Always dilute it, Tea tree oil is strong! Don't apply it neat (undiluted) on large areas.

- Mix with a carrier oil (e.g., Rosehip, coconut, jojoba, olive oil).

Typical ratio:

- 1-2 drops tea tree oil per teaspoon (5 mL) of carrier oil.

Do a patch test before using on your face or body:

- Apply a little diluted oil to your inner forearm.
- Wait 24 hours.
- If there's no redness/itching/swelling, it's likely safe for you.

How to applyFor acne/pimples:

- Clean your face.
- Dip a clean cotton swab in the diluted oil.
- Dab gently onto pimples.
- Do this once daily to start.

For fungal infections (e.g., athlete's foot):

- Apply diluted oil to the area 1-2 times daily.

For minor cuts or insect bites:

- Clean the area.
- Apply diluted oil gently.

PRECAUTIONS

1. Don't ingest tea tree oil—it's toxic if swallowed.
2. Avoid contact with eyes and mucous membranes.
3. Don't over use—it can cause dryness, irritation, or allergic reactions.
4. Not recommended for very sensitive skin without medical advice.

The image features two bottles of Simon Sharp Organic Castor Oil. The bottles are made of clear glass and contain a yellowish liquid. They have black spray nozzles and black labels. The labels include the brand name 'simon sharp products' in a circular logo, an illustration of castor plants, and the text 'CASTOR OIL'. One bottle is in the foreground, slightly to the right, and the other is behind it to the left. They are resting on a surface covered with many small, light-brown castor beans. A small green triangle is positioned above the main title text.

ORGANIC CASTOR OIL

Organic castor oil can be an excellent natural remedy for skin care due to it's high ricinoleic acid content, which has anti-inflammatory, anti-microbial, and moisturizing properties.

How to Use Organic Castor Oil for Skin

General Moisturizer (for Dry Skin)

1. Cleanse your face thoroughly with African Black Soap.
2. Warm a few drops of castor between your palms.
3. Gently massage into damp skin (helps seal in moisture).
4. Leave on overnight or rinse off after 30 minutes if too greasy.

Tip: You can mix castor oil with Rosehip oil (1:1) to reduce thickness and improve absorption.

For Acne-Prone Skin

1. Steam your face to open pores.
2. Apply a small amount of castor oil to the affected area.
3. Leave it on for 15-30 minutes or overnight (test what works for you).
4. Wipe off with a warm, damp cloth, then rinse with cool water after washing with African Black soap.

Note: Use only a small amount and avoid applying thick layers to prevent pore clogging.

For Dark Circles or Puffiness

1. Dab 1-2 drops under your eyes before bed.
2. Gently massage with your ring finger until absorbed.
3. Leave overnight and wash in the morning.

Use consistently for a few weeks to notice results.

For Cleansing (Oil Cleansing Method)

1. Apply a generous amount of castor oil to dry skin.
2. Massage for 1-2 minutes.
3. Place a warm, damp cloth over your face for 30 seconds.
4. Wipe off oil gently.
5. Rinse with cool water and pat dry.

Good for deep pore cleansing and dissolving blackheads.
For Scars, Stretch Marks, or Wrinkles

RAW SHEA BUTTER

It is a natural fat extracted from the nuts of the shea tree (Vitellaria paradoxa), the best being from EastAfrica, mainly Uganda.

It is widely used for skin and hair care due to it's rich concentration of vitamins A, E, and C, as well as it's deep moisturizing and healing properties.

Benefits of Raw Shea Butter

- Moisturizes Skin: Provides intense hydration and is ideal for dry or sensitive skin.
  - Soothes Irritation; Helps with eczema, psoriasis and other skin conditions.
  - Promotes Healing: Aids in healing minor cuts, burns, and stretch marks.
  - Anti-Aging Properties: Helps reduce wrinkles and finelines.
  - Protects Against UV Damage: Contains natural SPF (around 3-6) for mild sun protection.
  - Nourishes Hair: Softens hair, reduces frizz, and promotes healthy scalp conditions.

How to Use.

For Skin:

Apply a small amount directly to dry skin, lips, or areas with irritation

For Hair:

Melt a small amount between your hands and smooth over dry or damp hair.

PURE-VIRGIN COCONUT OIL

It has fatty acids that work to reinforce the skin's lipid barrier and lock in moisture.

It reduces the appearance of wrinkles and it has cleansing and antibacterial properties, which makes it useful for removing grime and makeup, and when combined with other ingredients works as a natural deodorant.

BODY BUTTER

Body butter is a rich, thick moisturizing butter designed to deeply hydrate and nourish the skin. It is made with natural butters like shea butter, along with oils such as coconut, castor oil, Rosehip oil, and tea tree oil.

Body butter provides long-lasting moisture and protection for dry or sensitive skin. It's dense texture creates a barrier that locks in moisture, making it ideal for use on areas prone to dryness, like elbows, knees, and heels. It includes vitamins to promote soft, healthy, and smooth skin, leaving it feeling supple and rejuvenated.

SHEA LIPS

Shea Lips is a nourishing lip balm made with pure shea butter, designed to deeply moisturize and protect dry, chapped lips. Rich in vitamins A and E, it helps to soothe irritation and enhance lip texture.

This natural formula provides a soft, smooth finish while creating a barrier against environmental stressors, leaving lips feeling hydrated and revitalized.

Ideal for daily use, it's suitable for all skin types.

Ingredients: Shea Butter, Coconut, Mint
